Scaling Global South Climate Solutions | Who owns the climate problem? – We(#4) - Global

It gently adds to and gradually replaces the global System so we can stop our collective suicide and responsibly manage issues like climate change

Contact
jim@WiseDemocracy.org
Website

Challenge & Solution
There is no collective thinking, no global "'We the People" by which to assess the value of possible global solutions or to take responsible actions. This affects each of the possible solution approaches being considered here.

We built a large-scale facilitation technology which can be applied globally, the Wisdom Council Process. It's a way that all people can come together, face impossible-seeming issues like climate change and achieve breakthrough progress. Key is the quality of thinking evoked by "Dynamic Facilitation," which we call "choice-creating

Impact
The Wisdom Council Process has been adopted into the constitutions of two states of Austria, affecting the lives of millions of people. We have also done experiments in corporations, schools, co-ops, conferences, and cities.

Partners
Democracy in the Box Program, Rotaract club of Newport Beach(supporting); Office of Future Related Issues in Vorarlberg (client);

